DI

of the semiconductor body 20. The cross section of these pillar shaped compensation zones 30 is circular in the exemplary embodiments according to figures 2 and 3, but this cross section can assume virtually any other geometric shapes and be, for example, rectangular, square or octagonal. --